For people with intellectual and developmental disabilities

Who is The Arc?

You may know The Arc best by the donation trucks often seen driving through our neighborhoods, or by visiting the arcThrift Stores which bring in revenue that helps to support people with intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD). But did you know that The Arc does so much more? If you have a child, family member, or someone else in your life diagnosed with Autism, cerebral palsy, Down syndrome, or one of the countless other developmental disabilities, you will quickly come to realize just how invaluable The Arc is, and come to appreciate all that The Arc does.

Achieve with us.

Imagine This ...

Your five-year-old son who has Autism is sent home from his first day of Kindergarten with a letter from the principal. It reads, "Dear Parent, Your son Trevor's behavior in class is entirely too disruptive and we do not believe that he belongs in our school." You feel stunned and unsure of what to do. What are your rights as a parent? How do you proceed to ensure that your child has the right supports to be successful in school? Where do you turn for information and guidance?

The Arc is here to help.

Now Imagine This ...

You're 85 years old and not well. Your 60-year-old daughter who has Down syndrome has happily lived with you throughout her entire life. Unfortunately, you know that you won't live forever. You worry constantly about the future. Who will care for her when you're gone? Does she need a guardian or will another arrangement be better for her? How do you sort through the options? The Arc is here to help.

And This ...

You're an adult self-advocate (person with I/DD) who enjoys living independently and working at a local department store. One day, your landlord decides he would like to rent your apartment to his brother-in-law and asks you to leave by the end of the week. That doesn't seem right to you, but you don't know what to do next. Do you have to move? What are your rights as a tenant? Is there anyone you can count on to help you understand the "lawyer-speak" in your lease?

The Arc is here to help.
