The DDRC Behavioral Health Team provides psychiatric and behavior services for people with developmental disabilities.

Services include functional assessment, direct intervention, psychiatric evaluation and ongoing follow-up.

Behavior support services are provided in a variety of settings. Individuals may benefit from behavior services, psychiatric services, or both depending on present concerns. Nursing and case management are also components of the Behavioral Health Team.

ABOUT DDRC
The Developmental Disabilities Resource Center is a private nonprofit organization that is dedicated to providing services that create opportunities for people with developmental disabilities and their families to participate fully in the community.

DDRC, operating since 1964, is one of 20 Community Centered Boards in the state of Colorado.

DDRC serves individuals who live in Jefferson, Clear Creek, Gilpin and Summit counties.

Quality, dignity, and choice are the values of DDRC.

"There's a world of difference between insisting on someone's doing something and establishing an atmosphere in which that person can grow into wanting to do it."

-Fred Rogers
