

SSDI- Social Security Disability Insurance

Who can receive? Individuals unable to work due to a notable disability, based on a person's work history and Social Security tax pay-in, and is not based on income or resource levels

Medicare Insurance is awarded with SSDI, which will start 24 months after date of original application. A working recipient can't earn more than $1180/month in gross wages

SSI- Supplemental Security Income

Who can receive? Individuals who are disabled, blind, or those age 65 or older

Individuals who qualify have limited income, have resources under $2,000, and meet SSA medical/disability requirements

Automatically awarded Medicaid Health Insurance

Social Security Administration Types of Benefits

SSDI DAC- Disabled Adult Child

Who can receive? Adults with disabilities, based on their parents' contributions to Social Security. Qualified persons will be age 18 years or older, unmarried, be disabled prior to age 22, has a parent who has paid taxes into the Social Security System and whose parent(s) are disabled per SSA definition, retired or deceased

Medicare Insurance will be awarded, which will start 24 months after date of original application. A working recipient can't earn more than $1180/month in gross wages

Retirement Benefits

An individual is eligible at age 67 for full retirement benefits unless born before 1960, then eligible at age 66

An individual can receive Medicare at age 65 and can apply for Medicare 3 months before 65 birthday

An individual earns "credits" towards retirement by working and paying into Social Security